EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Hermes Global Ventures is an Executive Intelligence company dedicated to helping organizations lead with confidence in the era of Human–AI Partnership.

Built on more than two decades of executive experience, we integrate governance, strategic insight, independent research, and responsible AI to improve executive decision–making and leadership.

We believe technology should strengthen human judgment—not replace it.

OUR PURPOSE

Artificial intelligence is redefining leadership. It is changing how organizations lead, decide, and compete.

Hermes Global Ventures exists to help leaders navigate that transformation through stronger governance, responsible innovation, and Human–AI Partnership.

OUR APPROACH

Innovation without governance creates uncertainty. Governance without innovation limits opportunity. Hermes Global Ventures helps organizations achieve both.

In the era of artificial intelligence, remaining static leads to obsolescence. Dynamic Governance™ is our framework for helping organizations adapt with purpose as technology, regulation, markets, and society continue to evolve.

OUR FOUNDATION

Hermes Global Ventures was founded on the belief that enduring organizations are built on enduring principles. Executive Intelligence and responsible Human–AI Partnership provide the foundation for that belief.

As artificial intelligence transforms executive decision-making, governance, and enterprise operations, leadership becomes more—not less—important. Dynamic Governance™ is our framework for helping organizations adapt with purpose. It recognizes that while technology, regulation, markets, and society evolve, the principles of accountability, stewardship, and human judgment must remain steadfast.

These principles form the intellectual foundation of Hermes Global Ventures and guide every platform, product, and client engagement.

THE FOUNDERS

Hermes Global Ventures was founded on a shared belief: that a better future requires intelligence, stewardship, and the courage to build what is next.

DOMINIQUE LUCHART, J.D.

Founder & Chief Executive Officer

Dominique Luchart, J.D. is the Founder and Chief Executive Officer of Hermes Global Ventures, where she leads the company's long-term vision and the development of Executive Intelligence for the era of Human–AI Partnership.

A strategist whose work spans future systems, artificial intelligence, social evolution, leadership architecture, and organizational transformation, she has spent her career exploring how emerging technologies reshape stewardship, institutions, and society.

Her work has developed an interdisciplinary perspective that bridges executive leadership with long-term societal change. It reflects a continuing exploration of how organizations can navigate complexity while preserving human judgment, responsibility, and purposeful leadership.

Since 2009, her research has focused on the long-term evolution of artificial intelligence, and Human–AI Partnership which evolved into a broader philosophy of responsible innovation and Dynamic Governance™, forming the intellectual foundation of Hermes Global Ventures and continuing to shape the company's long-term vision.

SPENCER BECK

Co-Founder & Chief Operating Officer

Spencer Beck leads Hermes Global Ventures' operational strategy, commercial execution, and enterprise growth.

His work in corporate development expanded into governance and enterprise oversight, helping organizations transform strategy into disciplined execution and long-term enterprise value.

Throughout his career, he has observed that access to capital is rarely the starting point of sustainable enterprise growth. It is earned through disciplined execution, strong governance, responsible stewardship, and the confidence created by long-term leadership.

At Hermes Global Ventures, he helps transform long-term vision into disciplined execution, ensuring that governance, operations, and commercial execution work together to create enduring enterprise value.
